2013 California Governor's Volunteering and Service Awards
Eight Honorees Receive Prestigious Award for Changing Neighborhoods and Lives

Sacramento – Earlier this week, CaliforniaVolunteers bestowed the state's highest volunteer award to eight honorees for innovation in the field of service and volunteering that has had a tangible impact on their community, their region and the state of California.

Nancy McFadden, Executive Secretary to Governor Jerry Brown and Secretary Karen Baker of CaliforniaVolunteers presented the awards in the California State Capitol Building on Wednesday, May 22.
